Parameta Solutions Launches Independent OTC Data on Snowflake Marketplace

LONDON, 31 July, 2025 — Parameta Solutions, the data and analytics division of TP ICAP Group, announced today the availability of its trusted over-the-counter (OTC: 31) pricing and liquidity data on Snowflake Marketplace. This collaboration will give financial institutions direct, frictionless access to the insights they need to manage risk, validate pricing, and meet regulatory demands with confidence – directly through the Snowflake AI Data Cloud.

This collaboration empowers financial institutions with seamless, secure access to Parameta's independent, high-integrity market data, enhancing workflows across liquidity risk modelling, pricing validation, and regulatory reporting. Now, financial institutions can access Parameta's industry-leading data instantly – no pipelines, no duplication, no friction.

> Our collaboration with Snowflake has deepened through consistent delivery of Parameta's high-quality OTC data to their customers. Joining Snowflake Marketplace is more than a distribution move—it's a step toward democratizing access to high-integrity OTC data. We're removing barriers, accelerating insight, and helping our clients see what others can't in opaque markets.

Silvina Aldeco-Martinez, Chief Executive Officer, Parameta Solutions

> We're hugely excited to bring Parameta Solutions to Snowflake Marketplace. Our collaboration enables our customers to seamlessly access high-quality OTC data and analytics to power key business critical processes from pricing strategies, risk management and regulatory obligations through our easy, connected and trusted platform.
